

SWIMMING FANS HOPE VISITORS ENTER ALL RACES

ing, their clubs never seemed to send out a line for the purpose of swimming in any event other than the National 100 yard Championship, and they could very properly refuse to compete in all of the events, except the national championship. Through their good sportsmanship, the public of Honolulu, however, will have a chance to see them compete against our best swimmers in practically every championship event and the attempt of agitators to create dissatisfaction upon the eve of this meet and, especially, toward our visitors, who have come so far and have shown themselves such splendid sportsmen, must be greatly appreciated.

YOUNG CHIEF,
LORRIN ANDREWS,
Secretary of the Hawaiian Association of the A. A. U.

Expecting for a rather excited airing of opinion the roof garden meeting resulted in no definite action. There was no condemnation of the swimmers, but some criticism of local A. A. U. officials who, it was alleged, did not give out the news in time.

W. T. Rawlins spoke vigorously against such criticism, saying that there has never been any intention to deceive the public.

Previous to the meeting at the roof garden various little knots of more or less excited swimming fans and sportsmen talked it over in the streets, the news having come out last night that two of the mainlanders might not enter their special distances.

One result of the agitation today was a cablegram sent this morning by A. A. U. officials to Secretary Ruben of the National A. A. U. asking him to see Otto Wahlen of the New York Athletic Club, powers-that-be, and make an effort to have the club authorize the men to enter the other events in which their names appear as entries.

An answer to that cablegram is expected this afternoon and if it is favorable, the men will not accordingly. As to Cann and Vollmer themselves, both have gamely declared that they would like to tackle the local champs and Langer at the other distances and if given a chance they will do so.

Interest at Fever Heat

The tremendous hold that swimming competition has upon Honolulu was never more graphically shown than by the rapid developments of last night and this morning and the virtually universal interest they created.

Last night, while A. A. U. officials, swimming club men and swimmers were gathered at the navy slip for the try-out of lighting and setting arrangements preparatory to tonight's meeting, the rumor drifted around that Cann and Vollmer were not going to compete at their championship distances. The article in this morning's Advertiser followed the previous verbal scattering of the rumor and then interest went to something near fever heat. The war and the railroad crisis were forgotten.

The rumors this morning were many and most of them baseless, as for instance, the report that many of the local swimmers were talking about withdrawing. This got the agitators going worse than ever. During the morning the mainland swimmers conferred with Rawlins and expressed their wish to swim if their club had not denied permission. There were conferences of A. A. U. officials and downtown the subject was thrashed out in a score of street corner debates. One such gathering at Merchant and King streets assumed the proportions of a small mass meeting.

Word apparently was passed around like lightning to the various swimming clubs of the roof garden meeting because all had many members there. It was nearly half an hour before anybody ventured to "start something," the hint for a chairman being vain until City Treasurer Conkling assumed the position.

Conkling protested that the A. A. U. officials here had not announced that Vollmer would not enter the 220 and Cann the 500-yard swim. He stated that the public had been led to believe that both would swim in the events in which they are champions, and remarked that he had heard that Lorrin Andrews knew this a week ago.

Elmer Davis voiced about the same sentiments. He said that the public had a right to know that the men who came here from the mainland would enter their favorite events.

In answer to the remarks made by Conkling and Davis, Rawlins pointed out that swimming had been organized here by the A. A. U. and that through the efforts of the A. A. U. Hawaii had been awarded the national championship in the 100-yard contest. He announced that he, Lorrin Andrews and John Soper had put up $1500 to bring the swimmers here.

Meeting An Anti-Climax

There ensued a long exchange between Rawlins, Conkling, E. P. Tuttle, Guy Tuttle and Bert Lightfoot dealing with the exact moment when the A. A. U. officials learned that the Easterners were not going to enter their special events. Rawlins insisted that he had heard it first late yesterday afternoon. Andrews, who was not present, was charged with having said last night that he knew it before the swimmers left New York, but later this summer down into a probable error. By this time the speakers were spitting hair in their argu-

BIG HOTEL DEAL PROBABLE, SAYS R. HEYDENREICH

Rudolph ("Heinie") Heydenreich, former manager of Heine's Tavern, who arrived from San Francisco on the Tenny Maru today, brought news not only that the big Hawaii hotel deal, of which much has been said and written lately, seems likely to be carried out, but that the same interests may buy the Grand Hotel in Yokohama, one of the famous hostleries of the Orient.

Heydenreich is on his way to take the management of the hotel, he said this morning, and from previous familiarity with the Orient expects to fit into his new duties smoothly.

It seems probable that the hotel deal for Hawaii will be carried out, and it is a million-dollar proposition," said this morning. "The Grand Hotel near San Francisco. Those interested, I have heard, are the same capitalists interested in the St. Francis."

HERBERT OSBORN TO BRING PARASITES HERE FROM JAPAN

Herbert Osborn, entomologist at the Sugar Planters' Experiment Station, will leave on the Tenny Maru this afternoon and return on the first steamer.

When he arrives he will take charge of a number of specimens of the tipids and the scolia, parasites on the anastoma beetle, brought from the Philippines by Frederick A. Muir. The beetle is bothering the cane roots in sections of Oahu now and the station has been working for months propagating the parasites on it.

So far it has been very successful. Muir and several associates are traveling the Orient searching for more specimens of the parasites and as they find them shipping them to Honolulu.

ments and it was evident they were getting nowhere.

After Rawlins' explanation the agitators did not press for action. It was evident that no sensation was going to be exploded and that the bubble of excitement had been pricked. Some talk was indulged in of holding the local A. A. U. officials accountable—at the next election—but there was no move on the part of Honoluluans not to go through with the races. A few "soreheads" around in the crowd talked something of the sort but they got no encouragement, and the worst of the agitators had nothing to say publicly. Cool heads were ready to control the situation if the meeting degenerated into a kilkeny row and the general opinion was that in a showdown the most radical of the agitators would have been badly outvoted.

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it is convincing proof that your condition is weakened—remember that. It is risky indeed to simply trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more serious sickness than any other, one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating syrups are often depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which leads the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and general strength to thwart further sickness.

Get Scott's first, not last—and it is in the genuine—always true from all good and genuine drugs.

KAM ALUMNI BEGIN AT ONCE GATHERING FUND

With the appointment last night at the meeting of the Kamehameha Alumni Association of four committees for the four islands of Oahu, Kauai, Maui and Hawaii, the actual campaign in the backing up of Charles E. King as an appointee on the board of trustees of the Bishop Estate, has begun. The committee will begin work at once soliciting funds.

Men of prominence have been named on the committees. On the Oahu committee Charles E. King was chosen as chairman, his associates being J. Ordentstein, Harold Godfrey, Rudolph Duncan, and Sam Kaula. This group will serve as the headquarters committee for the campaign.

Sam Kaula, chairman of the Hawaii board of superintendents, is named to head the soliciting committee on this island.

There is a bit of humor in the fact that the two chairmen of their respective counties, George Cummins is deputy sheriff on Maui and Owen Crowell holds a similar position on Kauai.

Soliciting is to begin at once according to those who have the matter in charge, the idea being to carry the campaign through without delay.

One of the features brought out at the meeting last night was in the fact that Hawaiians other than graduates of the Kamehameha schools are ready and anxious to donate to the cause for which the association is contending. At the meeting last night the committee agreed to solicit from these people.

Harold Godfrey, president of the Kamehameha Alumni Association, acted last night as chairman of the meeting.

There were only two bidders—James Wakefield of Davies & Co. and C. G. Owen of the Hawaiian Fertilizer Company. The bidding was opened for about a minute, then Mr. Wakefield's bid of 11 cents a yard prevailed, making $114 for the consignment.

The auctioneer asked both Mr. Wakefield and J. F. Humburg of Hackfeld & Co. if the terms of sale were thoroughly understood and agreed to, and both nodded.

That ended the sale.

MARKET SHOWS NEW STRENGTH; STOCKS ADVANCE

Better tone in the stock market was reported by brokers generally. Buying orders were said to be more in evidence than selling orders, the reverse of Wednesday and Thursday conditions. The result was a steady lifting of the market and something of a stiffening in prices. McBurnie was reported to be in demand and rose from 21 to 21 1/2. Olan rose from 25 to 25 1/2. Alama from 25 to 25 1/2. Between boards sold at 41 1/2. Brewing was 20. Sales between boards were 2450 shares and at the session 505 shares.

In unlisted stocks there was more than usual doing in Mineral Products, sales reaching 5540 shares, all at 90 cents. Oil was unchanged, 100 shares at $5.07 1/2, Engels $2.47 1/2 for 75 shares and 50 shares of Tipperary sold at 8 cents.

Achy Joints Foretell Trouble

A creaky joint often predicts rain. It also foretells inward trouble. It may mean that the kidneys are not filtering the blood and are allowing poisonous uric acid to clog the blood and cause trouble.

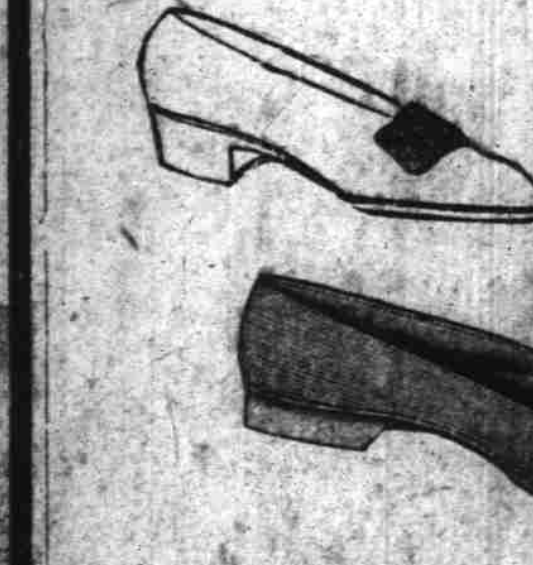

Bad backs, rheumatic pains, sore aching joints, headaches, dizziness, nervous troubles, heart flutterings and urinary disorders are some of the effects of weak kidneys and if nothing is done there's danger of dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease.
